

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

PREFACE.

THE volume now offered to the public is intended to furnish the pupil his first lessons in Latin. As an Elementary Drill-book, it aims to supply a want long felt in our schools. In no stage of a course of classical study is iudicious instruction of more vital importance than in that which deals with the forms and elements of the Latin language. To the beginner, every thing is new, and requires minute and careful illustration. He must at the very outset become so familiar with all the grammatical inflections, with their exact form and force, that he will recognize them with promptness and certainty wherever they occur. He must not lose time in uncertain conjecture, where positive knowledge alone will be of any real value. Improvement on this point is one of the pressing needs of our This volume is intended as a contribution to classical education in aid of this particular work. It aims to lighten the burden of the teacher in elementary drill, and to aid him in grounding his pupils in the first elcments of the Latin language.

It is the unmistakable verdict of the class-room, that theory and practice must not be separated in the study of language. The true method of instruction will make ample provision for both. On the one hand, the pupil must, by a vigorous use of the memory, become master of all the grammatical forms and rules; while, on the other hand, he must not be denied the luxury of using the knowledge which he is so laboriously acquiring.

To this just and urgent demand of the class-room, the author's First Latin Book, published fifteen years since, on the basis of Dr. Arnold's works, owed its origin. For the favor with which it was received, and for the generous interest with which it has so long been regarded, the author desires here to express his sincere thanks to the numerous classical instructors whose fidelity in its use has contributed so largely to its success. In the conviction, however, that it has now done its appointed work, he begs leave to offer them the present volume as its successor.

The great objection to most First Latin Books, that, however excellent they may be in themselves, they are not especially adapted to any particular Grammar, and that they accordingly fill the memory of the pupil with rules and statements which must, as far as possible, be unlearned as soon as he passes to his Grammar, is entirely obviated in this volume. All the grammatical portions of it, even to the numbering of the articles, are introduced in the exact form and language of the author's Grammar. Indeed, the paradigms are not only the same as in the Grammar, but also occupy the same place on the page; so that even the local associations which the beginner so readily forms with the pages of his first book may be transferred directly to the Grammar.

This work is intended to be complete in itself. It comprises a distinct outline of Latin Grammar, Exercises for Double Translation, Suggestions to the Learner, Notes and Vocabularies. As an Introduction to the author's Grammar, Reader and Latin Composition, it discusses and illustrates precisely those points which are deemed most essential as a preparation for the course of study presented in those works.

ALBERT HARKNESS,

Professor in Brown University.

AUTHOR OF "A LATIN GRAMMAR," "A LATIN READER," "A FIRST GREEK BOOK," ETC.

NEW YORK:

D. APPLETON AND COMPANY,
90, 92 & 94 GRAND STREET.

1869.

SOUNDS OF LETTERS.

5. Scholars in different countries generally pronounce Latin substantially as they do their own languages. In this country, however, two distinct systems are recognized, generally known as the English and the Continent-al Method.<sup>1</sup> For the convenience of the instructor, we add a brief outline of each.

I. ENGLISH METHOD.

1. Sounds of Vowels.

- 6. Vowels generally have their long or short English sounds.
- 7. Long Sound.—Vowels have their long English sounds a as in fate, e in mete, i in pine, o in note, u in tube, y in type—in the following situations:
- 1. In final syllables ending in a vowel: 2 se, si, ser'-vi, ser'-vo, cor'-nu, mi'-sy.
- 2. In all syllables before a vowel or diphthong: de'-us, de-o'-rum, de'-ae, di-e'-i, ni'-hi-lum.<sup>3</sup>
- 3. In penultimate and unaccented syllables, not final, before a single consonant, or a mute with l or r: pa'-ter, pa'-tres, A'-thos, O'-thrys, do-lo'-ris. But
  - 1) A unaccented has the sound of a final in America: men'-sa.
- 8. Short Sound. Vowels have the short English sound a as in fat, e in met, i in pin, o in not, u in tub, y in myth in the following situations:

&lt;sup>3</sup> In these rules, no account is taken of h, as that is only a breathing: hence the first i in nihilum is treated as a vowel before another vowel: for the same reason, ch, ph, and th are treated as single mutes; thus th in Athos and Othrys.

- 1. In final syllables ending in a consonant:  $\alpha'$ -mat,  $\alpha'$ -met, rex'-it, sol, con'-sul, Te'-thys; except post, es final, and os final in plural cases: res,  $\alpha'$ -es, hos,  $\alpha'$ -gros.
- 2. In all syllables before x, or any two consonants except a mute with l or r (7, 3): rex'-it, bel'-lum, rex-e'-runt, bel-lo'-rum.
- 3. In all accented syllables before one or more consonants, except the penultimate: dom'-i-nus, pat'-ri-bus. But
- 1) A, e, or o, before a single consonant (or a mute with l or r) followed by e, i, or y, before another vowel, has the long sound: a'-ci-es, a'-cri-a, me'-re-o, do'-ce-o.
- 2) U, in any syllable not final, before a single consonant, or a mute with l or r, except bl, has the long sound: Pu'-ni-cus, sa-lu'-bri-tas.

2. Sounds of Diphthongs.

- 9. Ae and oe are pronounced like e:
  - 1) long: Cae'-sar (Ce'-sar), Oe'-ta (E'-ta).
  - 2) short: Daed-ă-lus (Ded'-a-lus), Oed'-i-pus.

Au as in author: au'-rum. Eu . . neuter: neu'-ter.

EXERCISE I.

Give the sounds of the Vowels and Diphthongs in the following words.

1. Men'-sam,<sup>2</sup> men'-sas, men'-sis, men'-sae,<sup>3</sup> men-sa'-rum.<sup>4</sup>
2. Ho'-ram,<sup>5</sup> ho'-ras, ho'-ris, ho'-rae,<sup>6</sup> ho-ra'-rum.<sup>7</sup>
3. Scho'-la,<sup>8</sup> scho'-lam, scho'-las, scho'-lis, scho'-lae, scho-la'-rum.
4. Co-ro'-na,<sup>8</sup> co-ro'-nam, co-ro'-nas, co-ro'-nis, co-ro'-nae.<sup>9</sup>

<sup>1</sup> Ei and oi are seldom diphthongs; but, when so used, they have the long sound of i: hei, cui.

&lt;sup>2</sup> 8, 2; 8, 1. <sup>5</sup> 7, 3; 8, 1. <sup>8</sup> 7, 3; 7, 3, 1).

&lt;sup>4</sup>8, 2; 7, 3; 8, 1. <sup>7</sup>7, 3; 8, 1.

3. Sounds of Consonants.

- 10. The consonants are pronounced in general as in English; but a few directions may aid the learner.
- 11. C, G, S, T, and X are generally pronounced with their ordinary English sounds. Thus,
- 1. C and g are soft (like s and j) before e, i, y, ae, and oe; and hard in other situations: ce'-do (sedo), ci'-vis, Cy'-rus, cae'-do, coe'-na, a'-ge (a-je), a'-gi; ca'-do (ka'do), co'-go, cum, Ga'-des.
- 2. S generally has its regular English sound as in son, thus: sa'-cer, so'-ror, si'-dus. But
- 1) S final after e, ae, au, b, m, n, r, is pronounced like z: spes, praes, laus, urbs, hi'-ems, mons, pars.
  - 3. T has its regular English sound as in time: ti-mor, to-tus.
- 4. X has generally its regular English sound like ks: rex'-i (rek'-si), ux'-or (uk'-sor).
- 12. C, S, T, and X Aspirated. Before i, preceded by an accented syllable and followed by a vowel, c, s, t, and x are aspirated, c, s, and t taking the sound of sh, x that of ksh: so'-ci-us (so'-she-us), Al'-si-um (Al'-she-um), ar'-ti-um (ar'-she-um); anx'-i-us (ank'-she-us). C has also the sound of sh before eu and yo, preceded by an accented syllable: ca-du'-ce-us (ca-du'-she-us), Sic'-y-on (Sish'-e-on).
- 13. Silent Consonants. An initial consonant, with or without the aspirate h, is sometimes silent: Cné-us (Ne'-us).

EXERCISE II.

Give the sounds of the Letters in the following words.

1. Ci'-vis,¹ civ'-i-um, civ'-i-bus. 2. Car'-men,² car'-minis, car'-mi-ne.³ 3. Rex,⁴ re'-gis,⁵ re'-gi, re'-gum.⁵ 4. Ca'-put,⁶ cap'-i-tis, cap'-i-tum. 5. A'-ci-em,² a'-ci-e, a'-ci-es.² 6. Ars,⁵ ar'-tis, ar'-tes,⁵ ar'-ti-um.⁰

&lt;sup>2</sup>11, 1; 8, 2; 8, 1.

<sup>*8, 3; 7, 3; 7, 1.</sup>

&lt;sup>5</sup>11, 1; 7, 3; 8, 1.

<sup>6 11, 1,</sup> and 3.

<sup>* 11, 2, 1).</sup>

&lt;sup>9</sup> 12.

II. CONTINENTAL METHOD.1

1. Sounds of Vowels.

14. Each vowel has in the main one uniform sound;2 but the length or duration of the sound depends upon the quantity of the vowel. See 20.

The vowel-sounds are as follows:

a like ä in father: e.g., a'-ra.

" ple'-bes. made:

me:

" o'-ro.

o " ō no: u " ô do: " u'-num.

v " ē me: " Nv-sa.

2. Sounds of Diphthongs.

15. Ae and oe like a in made: e.g., ae'-tas, coe'-lum.

" ou " out: " au'-rum.8 au

3. Sounds of Consonants.

16. The pronunciation of the consonants is similar to that of the English method; but it varies somewhat in different countries.

EXERCISE III.

Give the sounds of the Letters in the following words, according to the Continental Method.

1. Hō'-ra, hō'-ram, hō'-ras, hō'-ras, hō'-rae, hō-ra'-rum. 2. Glō'-rǐ-a, glō'-rǐ-am, glō'-rǐ-ae. 3. Dō'-num, dō'-nī, dō'- nō, dō'-nă, dō-nō'-rum, dō'-nis. 4. Cī'-vis, cī'-vi, cī'-vem, cī'-vēs, cīv'-i-um, cīv'-i-bus.

<sup>1</sup> If the English Method is adopted as the standard in the school, this outline of the Continental Method should be omitted.

<sup>3</sup> In other combinations, the two vowels are generally pronounced separately; but ei and eu occur as diphthongs, with nearly the same sound as in English.

SYLLABLES.

17. In the pronunciation of Latin, every word has as many syllables as it has vowels and diphthongs; thus the Latin words more, vice, acute, and persuade are pronounced, not as the same words are in English, but with their vowel-sounds all heard in separate syllables; thus: mo'-re, vi'-ce, a-cu'-te, per-sua'-de.

QUANTITY.

- 20. Syllables are, in quantity or length, either long, short, or common.<sup>1</sup>
  - 21. Long. A syllable is long in quantity,
  - 1. If it contains a diphthong: haec.
- 2. If its vowel is followed by j, x, z, or any two consonants, except a mute with l or r: rex, mons.
- 22. Short.—A syllable is short if its vowel is followed by another vowel or a diphthong: di'-es, vi'-ae, ni'-hil.<sup>2</sup>
- 23. Common. A syllable is common, if its vowel, naturally short, is followed by a mute with l or  $r: \alpha'$ -gri.
- 24. The signs ', ', ', denote respectively that the syllables over which they are placed are long, short, or common: ă-qrō-rum.4

&lt;sup>3</sup> A vowel is said to be naturally short when it is short in its own nature; i.e., in itself, without reference to its position.

<sup>4</sup> By referring to 14, it will be seen, that, in the Continental Method, quantity and sound coincide with each other: a vowel long in quantity is long in sound, and a vowel short in quantity is short in sound. But, by referring to 7 and 8, it will be seen, that, in the English Method, the quantity of a vowel does not at all affect its sound, except in determining the accent (26). Hence, in this method, a vowel long in quantity is often short in sound, and a vowel short in quantity is often long in sound. Thus, in rex, ūrbs, ārs, sēl, the vowels are all long in quantity;

ACCENTUATION.

I. PRIMARY ACCENT.

- 25. Monosyllables are treated as accented syllables: mons, nos.
  - 26. Other words are accented as follows:1
  - 1. Words of two syllables always on the first: men'-sa.
- 2. Words of more than two syllables—on the penult<sup>2</sup> if that is long in quantity, otherwise on the antepenult:<sup>2</sup> ho-nō'-ris, con'-sū-lis.

II. SECONDARY ACCENTS.

- 27. A second accent is placed on the second or third syllable before the primary accent, on the second, if that is the first syllable of the word, or is long in quantity; otherwise on the third: mon'-u-e'-runt, mon'-u-e-ra'-mus, in-stau'-ra-ve'-runt.
- 28. In the same way, a third accent is placed on the second or third syllable before the second accent: hon'-o-rif'-i-cen-tis'-st-mus.

EXERCISE IV.

Accent and pronounce the following Words.

Cŏrōnă,³ cŏrōnae, cŏrōnārum.⁴
 Gemmae,⁵ gemmăm, gemmārum.
 Săpientiae,⁶ ămīcitiae, justitiae, glōriae.⁻

but by 8, 1, they all have the short English sounds: while in ŭvĕ, mŭrĕ, the vowels are all short in quantity; but by 7, 1, and 3, they all have the long English sounds. Hence, in pronouncing according to the English Method, determine the place of the accent by the quantity (according to 26), and then determine the sounds of the letters irrespective of quantity (according to 7-12).

<sup>1</sup> In the subsequent pages, the pupil will be expected to accent words in pronunciation according to these rules. The quantity of the penult in words of more than two syllables will therefore be marked (unless determined by 21 and 22), to enable him to ascertain the place of the accent.

4. Săpientiăm, ămīcītiăm, justītiăm, gloriam. 5. Săpientiă, avoicītia, justītia, gloria.

PART SECOND.

ETYMOLOGY.

- 29. ETYMOLOGY treats of the classification, inflection, and derivation of words.
- 30. The Parts of Speech are Nouns, Adjectives, Pronouns, Verbs, Adverbs, Prepositions, Conjunctions, and Interjections.

CHAPTER I.

NOUNS.

- 31. A Noun, or Substantive, is a name, as of a person, place, or thing: Cicero; Rōma, Rome; puer, boy; dōmus, house.
- 1. A Proper Noun is a proper name, as of a person or place:  $Cic\~ero$ ,  $R\~oma$ .
- 2. A Common Noun is a name common to all the members of a class of objects: vir, man; ĕquus, horse.
  - 32. Nouns have Gender, Number, Person, and Case.

GENDER.

33. There are three genders, - Masculine, Feminine, and Neuter.

- 34. In some nouns, gender is determined by signification; in others, by endings.
  - 35. GENERAL RULES FOR GENDER.
  - I. MASCULINES.
  - 1. Names of Males: Cicero; vir, man; rex, king.
- 2. Names of Rivers, Winds, and Months: Rhēnus, Rhine; Notus, south wind; Aprilis, April.
  - II. FEMININE.
  - 1. Names of Females: mulier, woman; leaena, lioness.
- 2. Names of Countries, Towns, Islands, and Trees: Aegyptus, Egypt; Rōma, Rome; Dēlos, Delos; pĭrus, pear-tree.

PERSON AND NUMBER.

37. The Latin, like the English, has three persons and two numbers. The first person denotes the speaker; the second, the person spoken to; the third, the person spoken of. The singular number denotes one, the plural more than one.

CASES.

38. The Latin has six cases:1

Names.	English Equivalents.
Nominative,	Nominative.
Genitive,	Possessive, or Objective with of.
Dative,	Objective with to or for.
Accusative,	Objective.
Vocative,	Nominative Independent.
Ablative,	Objective with from, by, in, with.

of gender is applied only to the names of males and females, while, in all other nouns, gender depends upon an artificial distinction, according to grammatical rules.

- 1. Oblique Cases. In distinction from the Nominative and Vocative (casus recti, right cases), the other cases are called oblique (casus obliqui).
- 2. Case-Endings. In form, the several cases are, in general, distinguished from each other by certain terminations called case-endings: Nom. mensa, Gen. mensae, &c.
- 3. Cases alike. But certain cases are not distinguished in form. Thus.
- 1) The Nominative, Accusative, and Vocative, in neuters, are alike, and in the plural end in a.
- 2) The Nominative and Vocative are alike in all nouns, except those in us of the second declension (45).
  - 3) The Dative and Ablative Plural are alike.

DECLENSIONS.

- 39. The formation of the several cases is called Declension.
- 40. Five Declensions. In Latin, there are five declensions, distinguished from each other by the following

Genitive Endings.

Dec. I. Dec. II. Dec. III. Dec. IV. Dec. V. ae. ī. IS. ŪS. el.

- 41. Stem and Endings. In any noun, of whatever declension,
- 1. The stem<sup>2</sup> may be found by dropping the ending of the genitive singular.
- 2. The several cases may be formed by adding to this stem the case-endings.

&lt;sup>2</sup> The stem is the basis of the word, or the part to which the several endings are added to form the various cases. Thus in the forms, mensa, mensae, mensam, mensis, &c., given under 42, it will be observed that mens remains unchanged; and that, by the addition of the endings, a, ae, am, is, &c., to it, the several cases are formed. Here mens is the stem; and a, ae, am, is, &c., are the case-endings.

FIRST DECLENSION.

42. Nouns of the first declension end in ă and ĕ, — feminine; ās and ēs, — masculine.1

But pure Latin nouns end only in a, and are declined as follows:

SINGULAR.

Abl.	mensa,	with, from, by, a table,	ā.
Voc.	mensã,	O table,	ă.
$A\alpha$ .	mens ăm ,	a table,	ăm
Dat.	mensac,	to, for, a table,	ae
Gen.	mensae,	of a table,	86
Nom.	mensä,	a table,	ă.

PLURAL.

Nom.	mensae,	tables,	ae
Gen.	mensārum,	of tables,	ārtim
Dat.	mensis,	to, for, tables,	īs
Acc.	mensās,	tubles,	ās
Voc.	mensae.	O tables,	ao
Abl	mensls,	with, from, by, tables,	īs.

- 1. Case-Endings. From an inspection of this example, it will be seen that the several cases are distinguished from each other by the case-endings placed on the right.
  - 2. Examples for Practice. With these endings decline:

Ala, wing; ăqua, water; causa, cause; fortuna, fortune; porta, gate; victoria, victory.

EXERCISE V.

I. Vocabulary.

&lt;sup>3</sup> Gender is indicated in the vocabularies by m. for masculine, f. for feminine, and n. for neuter.

Gemm	ec, f.	ge m .
Cloria,	æ, f .	s!ory.
Hōrá,	æ, f.	l.our.
Justitiā,	ac, f.	justice.
Săpientiă,	ac, f .	visiom.
Schöli,	ae, f .	school.

II. Translate into English.

1. Corōnă, 1 corōnā, corōnae, 2 corōnam, coronārum, corōnis, corōnas. 2. Gemmă, gemmā, gemmac, gemmam, gemmārum, gemmis, gemmas. 3. Sapientiā, amicitiā, justitiā, gloriā. 4. Sapientiam, amicitiam, justitiam, gloriam. 5. Sapientiā, amicitiā, justitiā, gloriā. 6. Scholārum, horārum. 7. Scholis, horis. 8. Scholas, horas.

III. Translate into Latin.

1. Friendship, friendships. 2. Of friendship, of friendships. 3. To friendship, to friendships. 4. By friendship, by friendships. 5. Justice, by justice, of justice, to justice. 6. Wisdom, glory. 7. With wisdom, with glory. 8. To wisdom, to glory. 9. Of wisdom, of glory. 10. Of a crown, of a gem. 11. Crowns, gems. 12. With the crowns, with the gems. 13. Of crowns, of gems.

&lt;sup>1</sup> As the Latin has no article, a noun may, according to the connection in which it is used, be translated (1) without the article; as, corōna, crown; (2) with the indefinite article a or an; as, corōna, a crown; (3) with the definite article the; as, corōna, the crown.

&lt;sup>2</sup> When the same Latin form may be found in two or more cases, the pupil is expected to give the meaning for each case. Thus corōnae may be in the Genitive or Dative Singular, or in the Nominative or Vocative l'lural.

The pupil will remember that the English articles, a, an, and the, are not to be rendered into Latin at all. Crown, a crown, and the crown, are all rendered into Latin by the same word.

SECOND DECLENSION.

45. Nouns of the second declension end in

ĕr, Ir, ŭs, os, — masculine; ŭm, on, — neuter.

But pure Latin nouns end only in er, ir, us, um, and are declined as follows:

Servus, slave. Puer, boy. Ager, field. Templum, temple.

	SINGULA	.R.

&lt;sup>1</sup> The endings for the Nom. and Voc. Sing. are wanting in nouns in er: thus puer is the stem without any case-ending; the full form would be puerus.

- 2. Examples for Practice. Like SERVUS: annus, year; dominus, master. Like PUER: gener, son-in-law; socer, father-in-law. Like AGER: füber, artisan; magister, master. Like TEMPLUM: bellum, war; regnum, kingdom.
  - 3. Paradigms. Observe
- 1) That puer differs in declension from servus only in dropping the endings us and e in the Nom. and Voc.: Nom. puer for puerus, Voc. puer for puere.
  - 2) That ager differs from puer only in dropping e before r.
- 3) That templum, as a neuter noun, has the Nom., Accus., and Voc. alike, ending in the plural in a. See 38, 3.

The tyrant, the boy, the book, the precept. 12. Of the tyrant, of the boy, of the book, of the precept.

SECOND DECLENSION - CONTINUED.

RULE II. — Appositives.

363. An Appositive agrees with its Subject in CASE: 1
Cluilius rex moritur, Cluilius the king dies. Liv. Urbes Carthago atque Numantia, the cities Carthage and Numantia. Cic.

I. DIRECTIONS FOR PARSING.

In parsing a Noun, Adjective, or Pronoun,

- 1. Name the Part of Speech to which it belongs.
- 2. Decline 2 it.
  - ,3. Give its Gender, Number, Case, &c.
    - 4. Give its Syntax,3 and the Rule for it.
- <sup>1</sup> A noun or pronoun used to explain or identify another noun or pronoun, denoting the same person or thing, is called an appositive; as, Cluilius rex, Cluilius the king. Here rex, the king, is the appositive, showing the rank or office of Cluilius,—Cluilius the king. The noun or pronoun to which the appositive is added—Cluilius in the example—is called the subject of the appositive.
- <sup>2</sup> Adjectives in the Comparative or in the Superlative degree (160) should also be compared (162).
- <sup>3</sup> By the Syntax of a word is meant the Grammatical construction of it. Thus we give the Syntax of regina, under the Model, by stating that it is in apposition with its subject, Artemisia.

MODEL.

Artemisia regina, Artemisia the queen.

Regina is a noun (31) of the First Declension (42), as it has ae in the Genitive Singular (40); STEM, regin (41). Singular: regina, reginae, reginae, reginam, regina, regina. Plural: reginae, reginarum, reginis, reginas, reginae, reginis. It is of the Feminine gender, as the names of semales are seminine by 35, II. 1. It is in the Nominative Singular, in apposition with its subject Artemisia, with which it agrees in case, according to Rule II.: "An Appositive agrees with its Subject in CASE."

Of Victoria the queen.

THIRD DECLENSION.

48. Nouns of the third declension end in a, e, i, o, y, c, l, n, r, s, t, x.

I. MASCULINE ENDINGS:2

o, or, os, er, es increasing in the genitive.

II. FEMININE ENDINGS:

as, is, ys, x, es not increasing in the genitive; s preceded by a consonant.

III. NEUTER ENDINGS:

a, e, i, y, c, l, n, t, ar, ur, us.

- 49. Nouns of this declension may be divided into two classes:
- I. Nouns which have a case-ending in the Nominative Singular. These all end in e, s, or x.
- II. Nouns which have no case-ending in the Nominative Singular.

In Class II., the Nom. Sing is either the same as the stem, or is formed from it by dropping or changing one or more letters of the stem: consul, Gen. consulis; stem, consul, a consul: leo, leonis; stem, leon (Nom. drops n), lion: carmen, carminis; stem, carmin (Nom. changes in to en), song.

&lt;sup>2</sup> That is, nouns with these endings are masculine.

- 52. Case-Endings. From an inspection of the paradigms, it will be seen,
- 1. That the nouns belonging to Class II. differ from those of Class I. only in taking no case-ending in the Nominative and Vocative Singular.
- 2. That all nouns of both classes are declined with the following

- 53. Declension. To apply these endings in declension, we must know, besides the Nominative Singular,
- 1. The Gender, as that shows which set of endings must be used.
- 2. The Genitive Singular (or some oblique case), as that contains the stem (41) to which these endings must be added.

&lt;sup>8</sup> The enclosed endings are less common than the others.

RULE XVI. — Genitive.

395. Any Noun, not an Appositive, qualifying the meaning of another noun, is put in the Genitive:

Cătonis orationes, Cato's orations. Cic. Castra hostium, the camp of the enemy. Liv. Mors Hămilcăris, the death of Hamilcar. Liv.

MODEL FOR PARSING.

Cătonis orationes, Cato's orations.

Catōnis is a proper noun, as it is the name of a person (31, 1). It is of the Third Declension, as it has is in the Genitive Singular (40); of Class II., as it has no Nominative Ending (49, II. and 51, II.): STEM, Catōn (41); Nom. Cato (n dropped, 49, II.). Singular: 1 Cato, Catōnis, Catōni, Catōnem, Cato, Catōne. It is of the Masculine gender, as the names of males are masculine by 35, I. 1. It is in the Genitive Singular, depending upon orātiōnes, according to Rule XVI.: "Any noun, not an Appositive, qualifying the meaning of another noun, is put in the Genitive."

Thus, in the examples above, Cluilius and the Appositive rex denote the same person; while orationes and the Genitive Catonis denote entirely different objects.
  - <sup>1</sup> As Cato is the name of a person, the Plural is seldom used.
- <sup>2</sup> This exercise furnishes practice in the declension of nouns belonging to Class I. of the Third Declension. See 50.
- <sup>3</sup> Regis is in the Genitive, and qualifies the meaning of mors, according to Rule XVI. 395.

- 5. Of the king, of the law. 6. Of the kings, of the laws.
- 7. To the king, to the law. 8. To the kings, to the laws.
- 9. The law of the state. 10. The laws of the state.

THIRD DECLENSION — CONTINUED. — CLASS II. PREPOSITIONS.

RULE XXXII. - Cases with Prepositions.

432. The Accusative and Ablative may be used with Prepositions.<sup>2</sup>

Ad ămicum scripsi, I have written to a friend. Cic. In cūriam, into the senate-house. Liv. In Itāliā,<sup>3</sup> in Italy. Nep. Pro castris, before the camp.

MODEL FOR PARSING.

Ad amīcum, To a friend.

Amīcum is a noun (31) of the Second Declension (45), as it has i in the Genitive Singular (40); STEM, amīc (41). Singular: amīcus, amīci, amīco, amīcum, amīce, amīco. Plural: amīci, amicōrum, amīcis, amīcos, amīci, amīcis. It is of the Masculine gender by 45, is in the Accusative Singular, and is used with the preposition ad, according to Rule XXXII.: "The Accusative and Ablative may be used with Prepositions." The Accusative is used with ad.

&lt;sup>2</sup> The Preposition is the part of speech which shows the relations of objects to each other: in Italia esse, to be in Italy; ante me, before me. Here in and ante are prepositions. In the Vocabularies, each preposition, as it occurs, will be marked as such; and the case which may be used with it will be specified. It has not been thought advisable at this early stage of the course to burden the memory of the learner with a list of prepositions and their cases.

&lt;sup>3</sup> Here the Ablative Italia is used with in; though, in the second example, the Accusative curiam is used with the same preposition. The rule is, that the Latin preposition in is used with the Accusative when it means into, and with the Ablative when it means into,

CHAPTER II.

ADJECTIVES.

146. The adjective is that part of speech which is used to qualify nouns: bonus, good; magnus, great.

The form of the adjective in Latin depends in part upon the gender of the noun which it qualifies; bonus puer, a good boy; bona puella, a good girl; bonum tectum, a good house. Thus bonus is the form of the adjective when used with masculine nouns, bona with feminine, and bonum with neuter.

147. Some adjectives are partly of the first declension and partly of the second, while all the rest are entirely of the third declension.

I. FIRST AND SECOND DECLENSIONS.

&lt;sup>2</sup>Be sure and put the adjective in the right form to agree with its noun, according to Rule XXXIII.

II. ADJECTIVES OF THE THIRD DECLENSION.

- 150. Adjectives of the third declension may be divided into three classes:
- I. Those which have in the nominative singular three different forms, one for each gender.
- II. Those which have two forms,—the masculine and feminine being the same.
- III. Those which have but one form, the same for all genders.
- 151. I. Adjectives of Three Endings of this declension have in the nominative singular:

Masc.	Fem.	Neut.

By the words of the brave leader.

COMPARISON OF ADJECTIVES.

160. Adjectives have three forms to denote different degrees of quality. They are usually called the Positive, the Comparative, and the Superlative degree: altus, altior, altissimus, high, higher, highest.

Comparatives and superlatives are sometimes best rendered into English by too and very, instead of more and most: doctus, learned; doctior, more learned, or too learned; doctissimus, most learned, or very learned.

- 161. The Latin, like the English, has two modes of comparison:
  - I. Terminational Comparison by endings.
  - II. Adverbial Comparison by adverbs.

I. TERMINATIONAL COMPARISON.

162. Adjectives are regularly compared by adding to the stem of the positive the endings:

Comparative.		Superlative.
M.	F.	N.	М.	F.	N.
iŏr,	iŏr,	iŭs.	issĭmĭis,	issĭmă,	issĭmŭm.

EXAMPLES.

Altus, altior, altissımus: high, higher, highest. levis, levior, levissımus: light, lighter, lightest.

II. ADVERBIAL COMPARISON.

170. Adjectives which want the terminational comparison form the comparative and superlative, when their signification requires it, by prefixing the adverbs magis, more, and maxime, most, to the positive:

Arduus, măgis arduus, maxime arduus. Arduous, more arduous, most arduous.

MODEL FOR PARSING.

Orātor clārior, A more renowned orator.

Clarior is an adjective (146) in the Comparative degree (160, 162), from the positive clarus, which is of the First and Second Declensions (148). Positive, clārus; STEM, clār; Comparative, clarior; Superlative, clarissimus. Clarior is an adjective of the Third Declension, declined like tristior (152). Singular: N. clarior, clarius; G. clarioris, clarioris, etc. 1 It is in the Nominative Singular Masculine, and agrees with its noun orātor, according to Rule XXXIII.2

NUMERALS.

171. Numerals comprise numeral adjectives and numeral adverbs.

I. NUMERAL ADJECTIVES.

- 172. Numeral adjectives comprise three principal classes:
  - 1. CARDINAL NUMBERS: 1 unus, one; duo, two.
  - 2. Ordinal Numbers: 1 primus, first; secundus, second.
- 3. DISTRIBUTIVES: 1 singuli, one by one; bīni, two by two, two each, two apiece

DECLENSION OF NUMERAL ADJECTIVES.

1. Cardinals.

- 175. On the declension of cardinals, observe,
- 1. That the units, ūnus, duo, and tres, are declined.
- 2. That the other units, all the tens, and centum, are indeclinable.
  - 3. That the hundreds are declined.1
  - 4. That mille is sometimes declined.2
  - 176. The first three cardinals are declined as follows:

1. Unus, one.

Singular.			Plural.
N. ūnūs, G. unīūs, D. unī, A. unūm, V. unē,	ūnā, unīŭs, unī, unām, unā,	ūnŭm, uniŭs, unī, unŭm, unŭm,	ūnī, unōrŭm, unīs, unōs,	ūnae, unārum, unīs, unās,	ūnă, unōrum, unīs, ună,
A. uno,	unā,	unō;	unīs,	unīs,	unīs.

second. Distributives denote the number of objects taken at a time: singüli, one by one; bīni, two by two.

&lt;sup>1</sup> These are declined like the plural of bonus (148); ducenti, ae, a, two hundred.

&lt;sup>2</sup> Though only in the plural, and only when used substantively. It is then declined like the plural of mare (50); millia, millium, millibus.

2. Duo, two.

<sup>.2</sup> The indeclinable numeral adjectives (175, 2) may be used without change of form with nouns of any gender, and in any case.

<sup>2</sup> Dies, it will be remembered, is generally masculine.

CHAPTER III.

PRONOUNS.

- 182. The Pronoun is that part of speech which properly supplies the place of nouns:  $\check{\epsilon}go$ , I; tu, thou.
  - 183. Pronouns are divided into six classes:
  - 1. Personal Pronouns: tu, thou.
  - 2. Possessive Pronouns: meus, my.
  - 3. Demonstrative Pronouns: hic, this.
  - 4. Relative Pronouns: qui, who.
  - 5. Interrogative Pronouns: quis, who?
  - 6. Indefinite Pronouns: aliquis, some one.

I. Personal Pronouns.

184. Personal Pronouns, so called because they designate the person of the noun which they represent, are ¿go, I; tu, thou; sui (Nom. not used), of himself, herself, itself. They are declined as follows:

	SINGULAR.
N. ĕgŏ	tū ·
G. mei	tui	suī
D. mĭh $f i$	tĭb ï	sĭbï
A. mē	tē	вē

D. nöbis	võbis	aĭbĭ
A. nos	vös	δĞ
V .	võs
A. nöbīs.	vöbīs	.5a

- 1. Substantive Pronouns. Personal pronouns are also called Substantive pronouns, because they are always used as substantives.
- 2. Reflexive Pronoun. Sui, from its reflexive signification, of himself, etc., is often called the Reflexive pronoun.

II. Possessive Pronouns.

185. From Personal pronouns are formed the Possessives:

meus, my, noster, our. tuus, thy, your, vester, your. suus, his, her, its, suus, their.

They are declined as adjectives of the first and second declensions; meus, mea, meum; noster, nostra, nostrum: but meus has in the vocative singular masculine generally mi, sometimes meus.

III. DEMONSTRATIVE PROPOUNS.

186. Demonstrative Pronouns, so called because they specify the objects to which they refer, are

Hic, ille, iste, ipse, is, idem.

They are declined as follows:

Hic, this.

	SINGULA	R.		PLURAL.
M.	F.	N.	M.	F.	N.
N. hic	haec	$\mathbf{h}\mathbf{\check{o}c}$	hī	hae	haec

V.	•		1
$m{A}$ . illō	illā	illō;	illīs	illīs	illīs.

<sup>1</sup> See bonus and aeger, 148.

Istě, that.

Istě, that, is declined like illě. It usually refers to objects which are present to the person addressed, and sometimes expresses contempt.

		Ipsč,	self, he.

1-		Idem.	the same.

Idem, the same.

Idem, compounded of is and dem, is declined like is, but shortens isdem to idem, and iddem to idem, and changes m to n before the ending dem; thus:

	SINGULAR	•		PLURAL.
М.	F.	N .	M.	F.	N .

IV. RELATIVE PRONOUNS.

187. The Relative qui, who, so called because it relates to some noun or pronoun, expressed or understood, called its antecedent, is declined as follows:

	SINGUL	AR.		PLURAL.
M .	F.	N.	M.	F.	N .
N. quī G. cujus D. cui A. quem V.	quae cujŭs cui quăm	quŏd cujŭs cui quŏd	quī quōrŭm quibŭs quōs	quae quārum quibus quās	quae quōrŭm quĭbŭs quae
A. quō	quā	quō ;	quĭbŭs	quĭbŭs	quĭbŭs.
	37 T.				*

V. Interrogative Pronouns.

188. Interrogative Pronouns are used in asking questions. The most important are

Quis and qui, with their compounds.

Quis (who, which, what?) is generally used substantively, and is declined as follows:

	SINGULA	AR.		PLURAL	•
M ,	F.	N.	M .	F.	N.
N. quis G. cujŭs D. cui A. quĕm V.	quae cujŭs cui quăm	quĭd cujŭs cuī quĭd	quī quōrŭm quĭbŭs quōs	quae quārŭm quībús quās	quae quōrŭm quĭbŭs quae
A. quō	quā	quō;	quĭbŭs	quĭbŭs	quĭbŭs.

Qui (which, what?) is generally used adjectively, and is declined like the relative qui.

VI. INDEFINITE PRONOUNS.

189. Indefinite Pronouns do not refer to any definite persons or things. The most important are

Quis and qui, with their compounds.

190. Quis, any one, qui, any one, any, are the same in form and declension as the interrogatives quis and qui.

191. From quis and qui are formed

I. The Indefinites:

aliquis, aliqua, aliquid or aliquod, some, some one. aquispiam, quaepiam, quidpiam or quodpiam, some, some one. quidam, quaedam, quiddam or quoddam, certain, certain one. quisquam, quidquam, any one.

&lt;sup>1</sup> But after si, nisi, ne, and num, the Feminine Singular and the Neuter Plural have quae or qua; si quae, si qua. In like manner, aliquis has aliqua in the Feminine Singular and in the Neuter Plural.

II. The General Indefinites:

quisque, quaeque, quidque or quodque, every, every one.
quivis, quaevis, quidvis or quodvis, any one you please.
quilibet, quaelibet, quidlibet or quodlibet, any one you please.

CHAPTER IV.

VERBS.

- 192. Verbs in Latin, as in English, express existence, condition, or action: est, he is; dormit, he is sleeping; lēgit, he reads.
  - 193. Verbs comprise two principal classes:
- I. Transitive Verbs, which admit a direct object of their action: servum¹ verbĕrat, he beats the slave.
- II. Intransitive Verbs, which do not admit such an object: puer currit, the boy runs.
- 194. Verbs have Voice, Mood, Tense, Number, and Person.

I. Voices.

- 195. There are two Voices:2
- I. THE ACTIVE VOICE, which represents the subject as acting or existing: păter filium amat, the father loves his son; est, he is.

II. THE PASSIVE VOICE, — which represents the subject as acted upon by some other person or thing: filius a patre amātur, the son is loved by his father.

II. Moods.

- 196. Moods 1 are either Definite or Indefinite:
- I. The Definite or Finite Mood: make up the Finite Verb; they are:
- 1. The Indicative Mood, which either asserts something as a fact, or inquires after the fact: lĕgit, he is reading; legitne, is he reading?
- 2. THE SUBJUNCTIVE MOOD, which expresses, not an actual fact, but a possibility or conception, often rendered by may, can, etc.: lěgat, he may read, let him read.
- 3. The Imperative Mood, which expresses a command or an entreaty: lege, read thou. X
- II. The Indefinite Moods express the meaning of the verb in the form of nouns or adjectives; they are:
- 1. The Infinitive, which, like the English Infinitive, gives the simple meaning of the verb, without any necessary reference to person or number: legëre, to read.
- 2. The GERUND, which gives the meaning of the verb in the form of a verbal noun of the second declension, used only in the genitive, dative, accusative, and ablative singular. It corresponds to the English participial noun in ING: amandi, of loving; amandi causā, for the sake of loving.
- 3. The SUPINE, which gives the meaning of the verb in the form of a verbal noun of the fourth declension, used only in the accusative and ablative singular: amātum, to love, for loving; amātu, to be loved, in loving.
- 4. The Participle, which, like the English Participle, gives the meaning of the verb in the form of an adjective.

A Latin verb may have four participles: two in the Active, the Present and Future, — amans, loving; amatūrus, about to love: and two in the Passive, the Perfect and Future, — amūtus, loved; amandus, deserving to be loved.

III. TENSES.

197. There are six tenses:1

- I. THREE TENSES FOR INCOMPLETE ACTION:
- 1. Present: amo, I love.
- 2. Imperfect: amābam, I was loving.
- 3. Future: amābo, I shall love.
- II. THREE TENSES FOR COMPLETED ACTION:
- 1. Perfect: amāvi, I have loved, I loved.
- 2. Pluperfect: amavěram, I had loved.
- 3. Future Perfect: amavero, I shall have loved.

198. Remarks on Tenses.

- 1. Present Perfect and Historical Perfect. The Latin Perfect sometimes corresponds to our Perfect with have (have loved), and is called the Present Perfect, or Perfect Definite; and sometimes to our Imperfect or Past (loved), and is called the Historical Perfect, or Perfect Indefinite.
  - 2. Principal and Historical. Tenses are also distinguished as
- 1) Principal:—Present, Present Perfect, Future, and Future Perfect.
  - 2) Historical: Imperfect, Historical Perfect, and Pluperfect.
- 3. Tenses Wanting.—The Subjunctive wants the Future and Future Perfect; the Imperative has only the Present and Future; the Infinitive, only the Present, Perfect, and Future.

IV. NUMBERS.

199. There are two Numbers: 2 SINGULAR and PLURAL.

&lt;sup>1</sup> Tense means time, and is employed to designate the time of an action or event.

&lt;sup>2</sup> Number in verbs corresponds, it will be observed, to number in nouns. See 37.

V. Persons.

200. There are three Persons: First, Second, and Third.

CONJUGATION.

201. Regular verbs are inflected, or conjugated, in four different ways, and are accordingly divided into Four Conjugations, distinguished from each other by the

INFINITIVE ENDINGS.

Conj. I. Conj. II. Conj. III. Conj. IV. āre, ēre. ĕre. īre.

202. Principal Parts.—Four forms of the verb—the Present Indicative, Present Infinitive, Perfect Indicative, and Supine <sup>2</sup>—are called, from their importance, the Principal Parts of the verb.

203. Entire Conjugation. — In any regular verb,

- 1. The VERB-STEM may be found by dropping the Infinitive Ending: amāre; stem, am.
- 2. The PRINCIPAL PARTS may be formed from this stem by means of proper endings.
- 3. The Entire Conjugation of the verb through all its parts may be readily formed from these Principal Parts by means of the proper endings.

RULE XXXV. - Verb with Subject.

460. A Finite 1 Verb agrees with its Subject 2 in NUMBER and PERSON:

Deus mundum aedificāvit, God made the world. Cic. Ego rēges ejēci, vos tyrannos introducītis, I have banished kings, you introduce tyrants. Cic.

1. Participles in Compound Tenses.—These agree with the subject, according to Rule XXXIII. page 32:

Thēbāni accūsāti sunt, * The Thebans were accused. Cic.

- 2. Subject Omitted. The subject is generally omitted —
- 1) When it is a Personal Pronoun, or can be readily supplied from the context:

Discipulos moneo, ut studia ument, I instruct pupils to love their studies. Quint.

Ut—ament means literally that they may love. The subject of ament is the pronoun ii, they, referring to discipulos. It is omitted, partly because it is implied in the ending ent, but more especially because it can be so readily supplied from discipulos, which shows who are here meant by they.

&lt;sup>2</sup> With the Active Voice of a Transitive Verb, the Subject represents the person (or thing, one or more) who performs the action; as, Deus in the first example, God made: but, with the Passive Voice, it represents the person (or thing, one or more) who receives the action, i.e. is acted upon, as, Thebāni, 460, 1: the Thebans were accused.

&lt;sup>8</sup> Aedificāvit is in the Third Person and in the Singular Number, because its subject deus is in that person and number. Ejēci is in the First Person Singular, to agree with its subject ego; and introducītis in the Second Person Plural, to agree with its subject vos.

&lt;sup>4</sup> The verb accusāti sunt is in the Third Person Plural, to agree with its subject Thebāni, according to Rule XXXV.; but the participle accusāti, which is one element of the verb, is in the Nominative Plural Masculine, to agree with its noun Thebāni, according to Rule XXXIII.

&lt;sup>5</sup> The subject of moneo is ego. It is omitted, because it is a Personal Pronoun, and is, accordingly, fully implied in the verb, as the ending eo shows, as we shall soon see, that the subject cannot be you, he, or they, but must be I.

<sup>6</sup> To love, or, more literally, that they may love.

The Pronoun may be expressed for emphasis or contrast, as in the second example under the rule.

I. DIRECTIONS FOR PARSING VERBS.

In parsing a verb,

- 1. Tell whether it is transitive or intransitive (193), name the Conjugation to which it belongs, give the Present Indicative Active and the Stem (203).
- 2. Give the Principal Parts (202), and inflect the tense in which the given form is found.
  - 3. Give the voice, mood, tense, number, and person.
  - 4. Name the subject, and give the Rule for agreement,

MODELS FOR PARSING THE VERB SUM.

1. Sum with Subject.

Nos² ĕrāmus, We were.

Erāmus is an intransitive irregular<sup>3</sup> verb, from sum. Principal Parts: sum, esse, fui, —— <sup>4</sup>. Inflection of tense (Imperfect Indicative): eram, eras, erat, erāmus, erātis, erant. The form erāmus is found in the Indicative mood, Imperfect tense, First person, Plural number, and agrees with its subject nos, according to Rule XXXV.: "A Finite Verb agrees with its Subject in NUMBER and PERSON."

2. Sum without Subject.5

Fui, I have been.

Fui is an intransitive irregular verb, from sum. Principal Parts: sum, esse, fui. Inflection of tense (Perfect Indicative): fui, fuisti,

- <sup>1</sup> That is, if the form occurs in a given tense of the Indicative, give the several forms for the different persons and numbers in that tense and mood. The teacher may also find it convenient to require the synopsis of the mood till the required tense is found.
- <sup>2</sup> Nos is the Subject. With an intransitive verb, the Subject represents the person (or thing) who is in the condition, or state, denoted by the verb.
  - <sup>8</sup> Hence it does not belong to either of the regular conjugations.
  - <sup>4</sup> The Supine is wanting.
  - <sup>5</sup> That is, without any subject expressed.

fuit; fuimus, fuistis, fuerunt, or fuere. The form fui is found in the Indicative mood, Perfect tense, First person, Singular number, and agrees with its subject ego omitted (though fully implied in the ending i of fui), according to Rule XXXV.

EXERCISE XVII.

I. Translate into English.

1. Sum, sumus, sunt.<sup>2</sup> 2. Es, est, estis. 3. Eram, erārmus.<sup>2</sup> 4. Erat, erant. 5. Eris, erītis.<sup>2</sup> 6. Erit, erunt. 7. Fui, fuēram, fuēro. 8. Fuĭmus, fuerāmus, fuerīmus. 9. Fuisti, fuistis. 10. Fuit, fuērunt. 11. Fuĕrat, fuĕrant. 12. Fuĕrit, fuĕrint. 13. Sim, simus. 14. Sit, sint. 15. Essem, essēmus. 16. Esset, essent. 17. Fuĕrim, fuissem. 18. Fuerīmus, fuissēmus. 19. Fuĕrit, fuĕrint. 20. Fuisset, fuissent. 21. Es, este. 1

II. Translate into Latin.

1. He <sup>3</sup> is, they <sup>3</sup> are. 2. He has been, they have been. 3. He will be, they will be. 4. He was, they were. 5. He will have been, they will have been. 6. He had been, they had been. 7. I <sup>3</sup> was, you were. 8. We have been, you have been. 9. You may be, they may be. 10. He would be, they would be. 11. I might have been, we might have been.

&lt;sup>3</sup> The English pronouns in this Exercise are not to be rendered by the corresponding Latin pronouns, as the latter may be implied in the ending of the verb, as in the Latin forms above: hence, he is  $\Rightarrow$  est.

SUM WITH SUBJECT AND ADJECTIVE.

RULE III. - Subject Nominative.

/ 367. The Subject of a Finite<sup>1</sup> Verb is put in the Nominative:

Servius 2 regnāvit, Servius reigned. Liv. Pătent portae, The gates are open. Cic. Rex vicit, The king conquered. Liv.

/ 1. The Subject is always a substantive, a pronoun, or some word or clause used substantively:

Ego rēges ejēci, I have banished kings. Cic.

2. SUBJECT OMITTED. See 460, 2; page 54.

MODEL FOR PARSING SUBJECTS.

Rex vicit, The king conquered.

Rex is a noun (31) of the Third Declension, as it has is in the Genitive Singular (40); of Class I., as it has a nominative ending s (x=g-s, of which s is the ending, as g belongs to the stem. See 50, I. note); STEM, reg. Singular: rex, regis, regi, regem, rex, rege. Plural: reges, regum, regibus, reges, reges, regibus. It is of the Masculine gender, by 35, I. 1.; is in the Nominative Singular; and is the subject of vicit, according to Rule III.: "The Subject of a Finite Verb is put in the Nominative."

Ille liber utilis fuerat. 10. Utilis4 fuisti. 11. Utiles fuistis. 12. Germania fertilis est. 13. Agri fertiles fuerant. 14. Pomum crudum est. 15. Poma cruda sunt. 16. Poma matūra erunt. 17. Miles fortis est. Milites fortes sunt.

III. Translate into Latin.

1. The pupil is diligent. 2. The pupils were diligent. 3. The boy is good. 4. He will be happy. 5. Good boys are happy. 6. You may be happy. 7. We might have been happy. 8. This soldier will be useful. 9. These soldiers have been useful. 10. Brave soldiers are useful. 11. You will be useful. 12. Let us be useful.

<sup>1</sup> Pax is the subject of est, and is therefore in the Nominative, according to Rule III.

<sup>· 5</sup> In translating English into Latin, the pupil is expected, in the arrangement of words, to imitate the order followed in the Latin Exercises. He will observe that the subject stands first, and the verb last. But sometimes the verb precedes one or more words in the sentence. Thus the sentence, Pax jucunda est, might be Pax est jucunda.

SUM WITH PREDICATE NOUN.

RULE I. - Predicate Nouns.

362. A Predicate Noun<sup>1</sup> denoting the same person or thing as its subject agrees with it in CASE:

Ego sum nuntius, I am a messenger. Liv. Servius rex est dēclārātus, Servius was declared king. Liv.

MODEL FOR PARSING PREDICATE NOUNS.

Egő sűm nuntiűs, I am a messenger.

Nuntius is a noun (31) of the Second Declension, as it has i in the Genitive Singular (40); STEM, nunti. Singular; nuntius, nuntii, nuntio, nuntium, nuntie, nuntio. Plural; nuntii, nuntiorum nuntiis, nuntios, nuntii, nuntiis. It is of the Masculine Gender by 45; is in the Nominative Singular, and, as a Predicate Noun, agrees in case with its subject ego, according to Rule I.: "A Predicate Noun denoting the same person or thing as its Subject agrees with it in CASE."

346. I. A DECLARATIVE SENTENCE has the form of an assertion:

Miltiades accusatus est, Miltiades was accused. Nep.

II. / An INTERROGATVE SENTENCE has the form of a question:

Quis non paupertatem extimescit, Who does not fear poverty? Cic.

- Interrogative Words. Interrogative sentences generally contain some interrogative word, either an interrogative pronoun,
  - <sup>1</sup> Every sentence consists of two distinct parts, expressed or implied:
  - 1. The Subject, or that of which it speaks.
  - 2. The PREDICATE, or that which is said of the subject.

Thus, in the first example under the Rule, ego, I, is the subject, and sum nuntius is the predicate. When the predicate thus consists of a noun with the verb sum, or of a noun with a passive verb, the noun thus used is called a predicate noun. Accordingly, nuntius in the first example, and rex in the second, are predicate nouns.

adjective, or adverb, or one of the interrogative particles, nc, nonne, num:

- 1) Questions with ne ask for information: Scribitne, Is he writing? Ne is always thus appended to some other word.
- 2) Questions with nonne expect the answer yes: Nonne scribit, Is he not writing?
- 3)/Questions with num expect the answer no: Num scribit, Is he writing?

In accordance with Suggestion V., what order will you follow in looking out the words in the Vocabulary?

&lt;sup>1</sup> In preparing the longer and more difficult sentences in this and in the subsequent exercises, it is recommended that the pupil should follow the Suggestions which are inserted in this volume, page 143, and which are intended to aid him in discerning the process by which he may most readily and surely reach the meaning of a Latin sentence.

<sup>11</sup> See Rule I.

MODELS FOR PARSING REGULAR VERBS.

1. With Subject.

Vos laudāvistis, You have praised.

Laudavistis is a transitive verb (192, 193) of the First Conjugation (201), from laudo; stem, laud. Principal Parts: laudo, laudāre, laudāvi, laudātum. Inflection of Tense: laudāvi, laudavisti, laudavisti, laudavistis, laudavērunt, or laudavēre. The form laudavistis is found in the Active voice, Indicative mood, Perfect tense, Second person, Plural number, and agrees with its subject vos, according to Rule XXXV.: "A Finite Verb agrees with its Subject in NUMBER and PERSON."

2. Without Subject.

Laudāvistis, You have praised.

This is parsed like laudavistis, above, except that it agrees with vos, implied in the ending istis; while laudavistis, above, agrees with vos expressed.

(the stem, 203) in common; but they differ from each other in the endings, -o,  $\bar{a}bam$ ,  $\bar{a}bo$ . In the forms amat, amant, there is a still closer resemblance: not only is the stem am common to both, but the endings have the letters at in common; or, in other words, the plural ending ant differs from the singular ending at only in inserting n: AT, ANT.

5. Amabitur, amabuntur. 6. Amāmur, amabāmur, amabimur. 7. Amātus¹ sum, amātus eram, amātus ero. 8. Amātus es, amātus eras, amātus eris. 9. Amātus est, amāti¹ sunt. 10. Amātus erat, amāti erant. 11. I had been blamed, you had been praised. 10. I shall have been blamed, you will have been praised. 11. You may be blamed, you might be blamed. 12. He would have been blamed, they would have been praised. 13. Let him be praised, let them be praised. 14. Be thou praised, be ye praised.

&lt;sup>1</sup> The learner will observe, that, when the verb and the subject (expressed or implied) are in the Singular, the participle (amātus), which forms one element of the verb, is also in the Singular; and that, when the verb and the subject are in the Plural, the participle (amāti) is also in the Plural.

The form of the participle also varies with the gender of the subject, as well as with its number. Thus, if the subject is Masculine, the participle will be amātus in the Singular, and amāti in the Plural; if Feminine, amāta in the Singular, and amāta in the Plural; and, if Neuter, amātum in the Singular, and amāta in the Plural. Thus the participle in the compound tenses (i.e., in those which are made up of the participle and the auxiliary sum) agrees with the subject in gender, number, and case, like an adjective, according to Rule XXXV. 1, note.

II. Translate into Latin.

1. He blames, he is blamed. 2. I was praising, I was praised. 3. You will praise, you will be praised. 4. He

&lt;sup>1</sup> In this Exercise, the pupil should carefully compare the corresponding forms in the two Voices,—the Active and the Passive,—and observe the difference between them. The Passive laudor differs from the Active laudo only in adding r; the Passive laudābar differs from the Active laudābam only in taking r in place of m. Thus we find, that, in the Indicative and in the Subjunctive, the first person of the Passive is formed from the first person of the Active by simply adding r; or, if the Active ends in m, by substituting r for m. Again: the Passive laudātur differs from the Active laudat only in adding m. Thus we find, that, in the Indicative and in the Subjunctive, the third person of the Passive is formed from the third person of the Active by simply adding m.

FIRST CONJUGATION — First and Second Declensions.<sup>1</sup>
Direct Object.

RULE V. - Direct Object.

379. The Direct Object<sup>2</sup> of an action is put in the Accusative.

Deus mundum aedificāvit, God made the world.<sup>3</sup> Cic. Lībčra rem publicam, Free the republic. Cic. Populi Romāni sălūtem döfendite, Defend the safety of the Roman people. Cic.

¹ It is thought advisable that the pupil should now commence a review of the grammatical forms which he has already learned. Accordingly, this Exercise will involve nouns of the First and of the Second Declension. The pupil should therefore carefully review those Declensions (42, 45). In connection with the subsequent Exercises, it is expected that the other Declensions and the other Grammatical forms will be reviewed in order, as will be indicated in the respective headings which precede the several Exercises.

&lt;sup>2</sup> The Direct Object of an action is generally the object, person, or thing, on which the action is directly exerted; as, salūtem, safety, in the third example; defend (what?) the safety. But the Direct Object is sometimes the effect of the action, i.e. the object produced by it; as, mundum, world, in the first example, — made the world.

&lt;sup>8</sup> In English, the object follows the verb; thus, in this example, world follows made; but in Latin the object usually precedes the verb: thus mundum precedes aedificāvit. So also, in the third example, salūtem precedes defendīte; but sometimes the object follows the verb: thus in the second example, rem publicam follows liběra.

MODEL FOR PARSING DIRECT OBJECTS.

Deus mundum aedificāvit, God made the world.

Mundum is a noun (31) of the Second Declension, as it has i in the Genitive Singular (40); STEM, mund. Singular: mundus, mundi, mundo, mundum, munde, mundo. Plural: mundi, mundorum, mundis, mundos, mundi, mundis. It is of the Masculine gender, by 45; is in the Accusative Singular; and is the Direct Object of the transitive verb aedificāvii, according to Rule V.: "The Direct Object of an action is put in the Accusative."

FIRST CONJUGATION — THIRD DECLENSION.3 ADVERBS.

RULE LI.—Use of Adverbs.

582. Adverbs<sup>4</sup> qualify verbs, adjectives, and other adverbs:

Săpientes feliciter<sup>4</sup> vivunt, The wise live happily. Cic. Fácile<sup>4</sup> doctissimus, unquestionably the most learned. Cic. Haud<sup>4</sup> äliter, not otherwise. Virg.

&lt;sup>2</sup> The Latin word for boys in this sentence will be in the Accusative, according to Rule V., and will precede the verb.

<sup>3</sup> The pupil should now review the Third Declension (48-54).

&lt;sup>4</sup> The Adverb is, therefore, the part of speech which is used to qualify verbs, adjectives, and other adverbs. Feliciter, happily, is an adverb qualifying the verb vivunt, live (live happily). Facile, easily, unquestionably, is an adverb qualifying the adjective doctissimus, the most learned (easily, i.e. unquestionably the most learned). Haud, not, is an adverb qualifying the adverb aliter, otherwise (not otherwise). The adverb in Latin usually stands directly before the word which it qualifies, as in these examples.

MODEL FOR PARSING ADVERBS.

Sapientēs fēlīcīter vīvunt, The wise live happily.

Feliciter is an adverb, and qualifies vivunt, according to Rule LI.: "Adverbs qualify VERBS, ADJECTIVES, and other ADVERBS."

FIRST CONJUGATION - Pronouns.4

EXERCISE XXVII.

I. Vocabulary.

Aliquis, aliqui, aliquid or aliquod, some one, somebody.

Dēlectő, ărě, avī, ātům, to delight.

Diligentia, ae, f. diligence.

Nōn, adv. not.

Sălūtő, ārč, āvī, ātǔm, to salute.

Suŭs, ă, ŭm, his, her, its, their.

&lt;sup>3</sup> In accordance with Suggestion VII., for what form will you look in the Vocabulary? See 162.

II. Translate into English.

1. Quis hanc¹ urbem servābit? 2. Hanc urbem pulchram servabīmus. 3. Quis te² salutāvit? 4. Pater meus¹ te salūtat. 5. Haec¹ vita te delectat. 6. Philosophia nos² delectat. 7. Omnia animalia se² amant. 8. Fratres tui¹ laudantur. 9. Fratres mei laudāti sunt. 10. Puer parentes suos³ amat. 11. Puĕri boni parentes suos³ amant. 12. Parentes nostros amāmus.

III. Translate into Latin.

- 1. Do you blame me? 2. We do not blame you.
- 3. Whom do you blame? 4. We blame your brother.
- 5. This book delights me. 6. These books delighted us.
- 7. Did not's your father praise you? 8. He praised us.
- 9. Did not some one praise your diligence? 10. Our parents praised our diligence. 11. Did your brother blame you? 12. He did not blame me. 13. He blamed himself. 14. He will be blamed.

&lt;sup>8</sup> The pupil will observe that suos in the tenth sentence must be rendered his, while in the eleventh it must be rendered their. Thus the meaning of the Possessive suus depends in part upon the number of the word to which it refers. It must be rendered his (her, its) when that word, as puer in the tenth sentence, is in the Singular; but it must be rendered their when that word, as pueri in the eleventh sentence, is in the Plural.

&lt;sup>4</sup> When a verb with a direct object has also an adverb qualifying it, the usual order is Object, Adverb, Verb; but the adverb non, not, may stand either before or after the object.

PART THIRD.

SYNTAX.

CHAPTER I.

SYNTAX OF SENTENCES.

SECTION I.

CLASSIFICATION OF SENTENCES.

- 343. SYNTAX treats of the construction of sentences.
- 344. A sentence is thought expressed in language.
- 345. In their STRUCTURE, sentences are either Simple, Complex, or Compound:
  - I. A SIMPLE SENTENCE expresses but a single thought: Deus mundum aedificavit, God made the world. Cic.
  - II. A COMPLEX SENTENCE expresses two (or more) thoughts, so related that one is dependent upon the other:

Donec ĕris felix, multos númĕrābis ămīcos; So long as you are prosperous, you will number many friends. Ovid.

- 1. CLAUSES. In this example, two simple sentences, (1) "You will be prosperous," and (2) "You will number many friends," are so united that the first only specifies the time of the second: You will number many friends, (when?) so long as you are prosperous. The parts thus united are called Clauses or Members.
- III. A COMPOUND SENTENCE expresses two or more independent thoughts:

Sol ruit, et montes umbrantur, The sun descends, and the mountains are shaded. Virg.

346. In their USE, sentences are either Declarative, Interrogative, Imperative, or Exclamatory.

I. A DECLARATIVE SENTENCE has the form of an assertion:

Miltiades accūsātus est, Miltiades was accused. Nep.

II. An Interrogative Sentence has the form of a question:

Quis non paupertatem extimescit, Who does not fear poverty? Cic.

- 1. Interrogative Words. Interrogative sentences generally contain some interrogative word, either an interrogative pronoun, adjective, or adverb, or one of the interrogative particles, ne, nonne, num:
- 1) Questions with ne ask for information: Scribitne, Is he writing? Ne is always thus appended to some other word.
- 2) Questions with nonne expect the answer yes: Nonne scribit, Is he not writing?
  - 3) Questions with num expect the answer no: Num scribit, Is he writing?
- III. An IMPERATIVE SENTENCE has the form of a command, exhortation, or entreaty:

Justitiam cole, Cultivate justice. Cic.

IV. An EXCLAMATORY SENTENCE has the form of an exclamation:

Reliquit quos viros, What heroes he has left! Cic.

SECTION II.

SIMPLE SENTENCES.

ELEMENTS OF SENTENCES.

- 347. The simple sentence in its most simple form consists of two distinct parts, expressed or implied:
  - 1. The Subject, or that of which it speaks.
  - 2. The PREDICATE, or that which is said of the subject: Cluilius moritur, Cluilius dies. Liv.

Here Cluilius is the subject, and moritur the predicate.

348. The simple sentence in its most expanded form consists only of these same parts with their various modifiers:

In his castris Cluilius, Albānus rex, mŏrītur; Cluilius, the Alban king, dies in this camp. Liv.

Here Cluilius, Albānus rex, is the subject in its enlarged or modified form, and in his castris moritur is the predicate in its enlarged or modified form.

- 349. Principal and Subordinate. The subject and predicate, being essential to the structure of every sentence, are called the Principal or Essential elements; but their modifiers, being subordinate to these, are called the Subordinate elements.
- 350. SIMPLE AND COMPLEX.—The elements, whether principal or subordinate, may be either simple or complex:
  - 1. Simple, when not modified by other words.
  - 2. Complex, when thus modified.1

SIMPLE SUBJECT.

351. The subject of a sentence must be a noun, or some word or words used as a noun:

 $Rex^2$  decrevit, The king decreed. Nep.  $Ego^2$  ad to scribo, I write to you. Cic.

SIMPLE PREDICATE.

353. The simple predicate must be either a verb or the copula sum with a noun or adjective:

Miltiüdes est accūsūtus, Miltiades was accused. Nep. Tu es testis, You are a witness. Cic. Fortūna caeca est, Fortune is blind. Cic.

- 1. Like Sum, several other verbs sometimes unite with a noun or adjective to form the predicate. A noun or adjective thus used is called a Predicate Noun or Predicate Adjective.
- <sup>1</sup> Thus, in the example given above, the simple subject is Cluilius; the complex, Cluilius, Albānus rex; the simple predicate, morītur; the complex, in his castris morītur.
- <sup>2</sup> In these examples, the noun rex and the pronoun ego, used as a noun, are the subjects.
- <sup>3</sup> In the first of these examples, the predicate is the verb, est accusātus; in the second, the noun and copula, est testis; and in the third, the adjective and copula, caeca est.
- <sup>4</sup> Thus testis, in the second example, is a Predicate Noun, and caeca, in the third, is a Predicate Adjective.

CHAPTER II.

SYNTAX OF NOUNS.

SECTION I.

AGREEMENT OF NOUNS.

RULE I. - Predicate Nouns.1

362. A Predicate Noun<sup>2</sup> denoting the same person or thing as its Subject agrees with it in CASE:

Ego sum nuntius, I am a messenger. Liv. Servius rex est dēclārātus, Servius was declared king. Liv.

&lt;sup>3</sup> See 214.

SECTION II.

NOMINATIVE.

364. Cases. — Nouns have different forms or cases to mark the various relations in which they are used. These cases, in accordance with their general force, may be arranged and characterized as follows:

I.	Nominative,	Case of the Subject.
II.	Vocative,	Case of Address.
III.	Accusative,	Case of Direct Object.
IV.	Dative,	Case of Indirect Object.
V.	Genitive,	Case of Adjective Relations.
VI.	Ablative,	Case of Adverbial Relations.1

RULE III.—Subject Nominative.

367. The Subject of a Finite verb is put in the Nominative:

Servius regnāvit, Servius reigned. Liv. Pătent portae, The gates are open. Cic. Rex vīcit, The king conquered. Liv.

1. The Subject is always a substantive, a pronoun, or some word or clause used substantively:

Ego rēges ejēci, I have banished kings. Cic.

2. SUBJECT OMITTED. - See 460, 2, p. 54.

EXERCISE LII.

SECTION IV.

ACCUSATIVE.

RULE V. - Direct Object.

371. The Direct Object<sup>8</sup> of an action is put in the Accusative:

Deus mundum aedificāvit, God made the world.<sup>4</sup> Cic. Lībēra rem publicam, Free the republic. Cic. Pöpüli Rōmāni sălūtem dēfendīte, Defend the safety of the Roman people. Cic.

&lt;sup>1</sup> In the Vocative, according to Rule IV. No special Model for parsing is deemed necessary, as all nouns are parsed substantially in the same way; though different Rules are, of course, assigned for different cases. See Directions for Parsing, p. 15; also Model, p. 16.

The Vocative is not often the first word in the sentence, though it is sometimes thus placed, as in the seventh sentence in this Exercise.

&lt;sup>2</sup> Sec 162.

DATIVE WITH ADJECTIVES.

RULE XIV. - Dative.

391. With Adjectives, the OBJECT TO WHICH the quality is directed is put in the Dative:

Patriae sŏlum omnĭbus¹ cārum est, The soil of their country is dear to all. Cic. Id aptum est tempŏri, This is adapted to the time. Cic. Omni aetāti mors est commūnis, Death is common to every age. Cic. Cănis sĭmĭlis lūpo est, A dog is similar to a wolf. Cic. Nātūrae accommŏdātum, Adapted to nature. Cic. Graeciae ūtĭle, Useful to Greece. Nep.

1. Adjectives with Dative. — The most common are those signifying:

Agreeable, easy, friendly, like, near, necessary, suitable, subject, useful, together with others of a similar or opposite meaning, and verbals in bilis.

6. The citizens will observe the laws of the state.

CENITIVE WITH ADJECTIVES.

RULE XVII.—Genitive.

890. Many Adjectives take a Genitive to complete their meaning:

Avidus laudis, Desirous of praise. Cic. Otil cupidus, Desirous of leisure. Liv. Amans sui virtus, Virtue fond of itself. Cic. Efficiens voluptatis, Productive of pleasure. Cic. Cloriae memor, Mindful of glory. Liv.

- 1. Force of this Genitive.—The genitive here retains its usual force,—of, in respect of,—and may be used after adjectives which admit this relation.
- 2. Adjectives with the Genitive.—The most common are
- 1) Verbals in ax, and participles in ans and ens used adjectively.
- 2) Adjectives denoting desire, knowledge, skill, recollection, participation, mastery, fulness, and their contraries.

EXERCISE LX.

I. Vocabulary.

Amans, ămantis, Avidus, ă, um, loving, fond of. desirous of, eager for.

&lt;sup>1</sup> Laudis completes the meaning of avidus; desirous (of what?) of praise. It is in the Genitive, by this Rule. In the same way, otii completes the meaning of cupidus; sui, of amans; voluptātis, of efficiens; and gloriae, of memor.

Certamen, certaminis, n. contest, strife, battle. Căpidăs, ă, ăm. desirous of. Fons, fontis, m. fountain. Laus, laudis, f. praise. Novitas, novitatis, f. noveliu. Peritus, a, um. skilled in. Piscis, piscis, m. fish. Plēnŭs, ă, ŭm. full. Voluptās, voluptātis, f. pleasure.

SECTION VII.

412. The Ablative in its primary meaning is closely related to the Genitive; but, in its general use, it corresponds to the English Objective with from, by, in, with, and expresses various adverbial relations. It is accordingly used with Verbs and Adjectives; while the Genitive, as the case of adjective relations, is most common with Nouns. See 393.

ABLATIVE OF CAUSE, MANNER, MEANS.

RULE XXI. - Cause, Manner, Means.

414. Cause, Manner, and Means are denoted by the Ablative:

Ars ūtilitāte laudātur, An art is praised because of its usefulness. Cic. Glöriā dūcītur, He is led by glory. Cic. Duōbus mŏdis fit, It is done in two ways. Cic. Sol omnia lūce collustrat, The sun illumines all things with its light. Cic. Apri dentībus se tūtantur, Boars defend themselves with their tusks. Cic. Aeger ĕrat vulnĕrībus, He was ill in consequence of his wounds. Nep. Laetus sorte tua, Pleased with your lot. Hor.

- 1. Application of Rule. This Ablative is of very frequent occurrence, and is used both with verbs and adjectives.
- 2. ABLATIVE OF CAUSE.—This designates that by which, by reason of which, because of which, in accordance with which, any thing is or is done.
- 3. ABLATIVE OF MANNER. This Ablative is regularly accompanied by some modifier, or by the preposition cum; but a few ablatives, chiefly those signifying manner, more, ordine, rătione, etc., occur without such accompaniment:

Vi summa, With the greatest violence. Nep. More Persarum, In the manner of the Persians. Nep. Cum silentio audire, To hear in silence. Liv. Id ordine făcere, To do it in order, or properly. Cic.

It is not always possible to distinguish between Cause, Manner, and Means. Sometimes the same Ablative may involve both Cause and Means, or both Means and Manner. Still the pupil should be taught to determine in each instance, as far as possible, what is the real force of the Ablative. Thus in the examples, utilitate denotes cause, because of its usefulness; gloria, means, with perhaps the accessory notion of cause; modis, manner; luce, means; dentibus, means; vulneribus, cause, with perhaps the accessory notion of means; and sorte, cause and means.

- 4. ABLATIVE OF MEANS. This includes the Instrument and all other Means employed.
- 5. ABLATIVE OF AGENT. This designates the Person by whom any thing is done as a voluntary agent, and takes the preposition a or ab:

Occisus est a Thēbānis, He was slain by the Thebans.1 Nep.

&lt;sup>1</sup> By comparing this example with those under the Rule, the second for instance, it will be seen that the Latin construction distinguishes the person by whom any thing is done from the means by which it is done, designating the former by the Ablative with a or ab (a Thebānis, by the Thebans), and the latter by the Ablative without a preposition; gloriā, by glory.

ABLATIVES WITH COMPARATIVES.

RULE XXIII. - Ablative with Comparatives.

417. Comparatives without QUAM are followed by the Ablative:

Nihil est ămābīlius virtūte,<sup>3</sup> Nothing is more lovely than virtue. Cic. Quid est mělius bŏnĭtāte,<sup>3</sup> What is better than goodness? Cic.

1. Comparatives with Quam are followed by the Nominative, or by the case of the corresponding noun before them:

Híbernia minor quam Britannia existimatur, Hibernia is considered smaller than Britannia. Caes. Agris quam urbi 5 terribilior, More terrible to the country than to the city. Liv.

&lt;sup>4</sup> Quam is a conjunction, meaning than. Conjunctions are mere connectives, used to connect words or clauses.

III. Translate into Latin.

1. Will not the army be led back to the city? 2. It has been led back to the city. 3. Will you not write to me? 4. I will write to you. 5. Friendship is valuable of itself. 6. Have you not received five letters from me? 7. I have received four letters from you. 8. I have received two letters from your brother.

<sup>1</sup> Per se, literally through itself: render in itself or of itself.

SUGGESTIONS TO THE LEARNER.

- I. The preparation of a Reading Lesson in Latin involves,
  - 1. A knowledgé of the Meaning of the Latin.
  - 2. A knowledge of the Structure of the Latin Sentences.
  - 3. A translation into English.

MEANING OF THE LATIN.

II. Remember that almost every inflected word in a Latin sentence requires the use of both the Dictionary and the Grammar to ascertain its meaning.

The Dictionary gives the meaning of the word, without reference to its Grammatical properties of case, number, mood, tense, etc.; and the Grammar, the meaning of the endings which mark these properties. The Dictionary will give the meaning of mensa, a table, but not of mensarum, of tables: the Grammar alone will give the force of the ending arum.

- III. Make yourself so familiar with all the endings of inflection, with their exact form and force, whether in declension or conjugation, that you will not only readily distinguish the different parts of speech from each other, but also the different forms of the same word, with their exact and distinctive force.
  - IV. In taking up a Latin sentence,
- 1. Notice carefully the endings of the several words, and thus determine which words are nouns, which verbs, etc.
- 2. Observe the force of each ending, and thus determine case, number, voice, mood, tense, etc.

This will be found to be a very important step toward the mastery of the sentence. By this means, you will discover not only the relation of the words to each other, but also an important part of their meaning,—that which they derive from their endings.

- V. The key to the meaning of any simple sentence (345, I.) will be found in the simple subject and predicate; i.e., in the Nominative and its Verb. Hence, in looking out the sentence, observe the following order. Take
  - 1. The Subject, or Nominative.

The ending will, in most instances, enable you to distinguish this from all other words, except the adjectives which agree with it. These may be looked out at the same time with the subject.

Sometimes the subject is not expressed, but only implied, in the ending of the verb. It may then be readily supplied, as it is always a pronoun of such person and number as the verb indicates: as, audio, I hear, the ending io showing that the subject is ego; audītis, you hear, the ending itis showing that the subject is vos.

2. The Verb, with Predicate Noun or Adjective, if any.

This will be readily known by the ending. Now, combining this with the Subject, you will have an outline of the sentence. All the other words must now be associated with these two parts.

3. The Modifiers of the Subject; i.e., adjectives agreeing with it, nominatives in apposition with it, genitives dependent upon it, etc.

But perhaps some of these have already been looked out in the attempt to ascertain the subject.

In looking out these words, bear in mind the meaning of the subject to which they belong. This will greatly aid you in selecting from the dictionary the true meaning in the passage before you.

4. The Modifiers of the Verb, i.e. (1) Oblique cases, accusatives, datives, etc., dependent upon it, and (2) Adverbs qualifying it.

Bear in mind all the while the force of the case and the meaning of the verb, that you may be able to select for each word the true meaning in the passage before you.

VI. In complex and compound sentences (345, II., III.), discover first the connectives which unite the several members, and then proceed with each member as with a simple sentence.

- VII. In the use of Dictionary and Vocabulary, remember that you are not to look for the particular form which occurs in the sentence, but for the Nom. Sing. of nouns, adjectives, and pronouns, and for the First Pers. Sing. Pres. Indic. Act. of verbs. Therefore,
- 1. In Pronouns, make yourself so familiar with their declension, that any oblique case will at once suggest the Nom. Sing.

If vobis occurs, you must remember that the Nom. Sing. is tu.

2. In Nouns and Adjectives, make yourself so familiar with the case-endings, that you will be able to drop that of the given case, and substitute for it that of the Nom. Sing.

Thus mensibus; stem mens, Nom. Sing. mensis, which you will find in the Vocabulary. So urbem, urb, urbs.

3. In Verbs, change the ending of the given form into that of the First Pers. Sing. of the Pres. Indic. Act.

Thus amābat; stem am, First Pers. Sing. Pres. Indic. Act. amo, which you will find in the Vocabulary. So amavērunt; First Pers. Perf. amāvi, Perf. stem amav, Verb stem am; amo.

To illustrate the steps recommended in the preceding suggestions, we add the following

Model.

VIII. Themistŏcles imperator servitūte totam Graeciam liberavit.

- 1. Without knowing the meaning of the words, you will discover from their forms,
- 1) That Themistocles and imperator are probably nouns in the Nom. Sing.
  - 2) That servitūte is a noun in the Abl. Sing.
- 3) That totam and Graeciam are either nouns or adjectives in the Accus. Sing.
- 4) That liberāvit is a verb in the Act. voice, Indic. mood, Perf. tense, Third Person, Singular number.
- 2. Now, turning to the Vocabulary for the meaning of the words, you will learn,

- 1) That Themistocles is the name of an eminent Athenian general: THEMISTOCLES.
- 2) That libero, for which you must look, not for liberavit, means to liberate: LIBERATED.

Themistocles liberated.

- That imperator means commander: THE COMMANDER.
   Themistocles the commander liberated.
- 4) That Graeciam is the name of a country: GREECE.

  Themistocles the commander liberated Greece.
- 5) That totus means the whole, all: ALL.

  Themistocles the commander liberated all Greece.
- 6) That servitus means servitude: FROM SERVITUDE.

Themistocles the commander liberated all Greece from servitude.

STRUCTURE OF THE LATIN SENTENCE.

IX. The structure of a sentence is best shown by analyzing it, and by parsing the words which compose it.

Parsing.

XVII.2 In parsing a word,

- 1. Name the Part of Speech to which it belongs.
- 2. Inflect <sup>8</sup> it, if capable of inflection.
- 3. Give its gender, number, case, voice, mood, tense, person, etc.<sup>4</sup>
  - 4. Give its Syntax, and the Rule for it.

TRANSLATION.

XIX. In translating, render as literally as possible without doing violence to the English.

&lt;sup>1</sup> It has not been thought advisable to enter upon the subject of analysis at this early stage of the course. That will be presented in the Reader, which follows this work.

&lt;sup>2</sup> These suggestions are taken, without change, from the Reader. Accordingly, the numerals are made to correspond to those in that work.

&lt;sup>5</sup> For Models for Parsing, see pp. 16, 22, 24, 33, 55, 57, 59, 66, 71, and 73.

Arnold's First Latin Book;

Remodelled and Rewritten, and adapted to the Ollendorff Method of Instruction. By ALBERT HARKNESS, A.M. 12mo, 302 pages.

Under the labors of the present author, the work of Arnold has undergone radical changes. It has been adapted to the Ollendorff improved method of instruction, and is superior to the former work in its plan and all the details of instruction. While it proceeds in common with Arnold on the principle of imitation and repetition, it pursues much more exactly and with a surer step the progressive method, and aims to make the pupil master of every individual subject before he proceeds to a new one, and of each subject by itself before it is combined with others; se that he is brought gradually and surely to understand the most difficult combinations of the language. An important feature of this book is, that it carries along the Syntax part passw with the Etymology, so that the student is not only all the while becoming familiar with the forms of the language, but is also learning to construct sentences and to under stand the mutual relations of their component parts.

Special care has been taken in the exercises to present such idioms and expressions alone as are authorized by the best classic authors, so that the learner may acquire, by example as well as precept, a distinct idea of pure Latinity.

It has been a leading object with the author so to classify and arrange the various topics as to simplify the subject, and, as far as possible, to remove the disheartening difficulties too often encountered at the outset in the study of an ancient language.

From W. E. Tolman, Instructor in Providence High School.

"I have used Arnold's First Latin Book, remodelled and rewritten by Mr. Harkness, in my classes during the past year, and find it to be a work not so much remodelled and rewritten as one entirely new, both in its plan and in its adaptation to the wants of the beginner in Latin."

From WM. RUBSELL, Editor of the First Series of the Boston Journal of Education.

"The form which this work has taken under the skilful hand of Mr. H. is marked throughout by a method purely elementary, perfectly simple, gradually progressive, and rigorously exact. Pupils trained on such a manual cannot fail of becoming distinguished, in their subsequent progress, for precision and correctness of knowledge, and for rapid advancement in genuine scholarship."

From George Capron, Principal of Worcester High School.

"I have examined the work with care, and am happy to say that I find it superior to any similar work with which I am acquainted. I shall recommend it to my next class."

From J. R. Boiss, Professor of Ancient Languages in Michigan University.

"I have examined your First Book in Latin, and am exceedingly pleased both with the plan and execution. I shall not fail to use my influence toward introducing it into the classical schools of this State."

Second Latin Book;

Comprising an Historical Latin Reader, with Notes and Rules for Translating, and an Exercise Book, developing a Complete Analytical Syntax, in a series of Lessons and Exercises, involving the Construction, Analysis, and Reconstruction of Latin Sentences. By ALBERT HARKNESS, A.M., Senior Master in the Providence High School. 12mo, 362 pages.

This work is designed as a sequel to the author's "First Latin Book." It comprises a complete analytical syntax, exhibiting the essential structure of the Latin language, from its simplest to its most expanded and elaborate form.

The arrangement of the lessons is decidedly philosophical, gradually progressive, and in strict accordance with the law of development of the human mind. Every new principle is stated in simple, clear, and accurate language, and illustrated by examples carefully selected from the reading lessons, which the student is required to translate, analyze, and reconstruct. He is also exercised in forming new Latin sentences on given models. This, while it gives variety and interest to what would otherwise be in the highest degree monotonous, completely fixes in the mind the subject of the lesson, both by analysis and synthesis.

The careful study of this volume, on the plan recommended by the author, will greatly facilitate the pupil's progress in the higher departments of the language. Such is the testimony of the numerous institutions in which Harkness's improved edition of Arnold has been introduced.

From J. A. SPERCER, D.D., late Professor of Latin in Burlington College, N. J.

"The present volume appears to me to carry out excellently the system on which the late lamented Arnold based his educational works; and in the Selections for Reading, the Notes and Rules for Translating, the Exercises in Translating into Latin, the Analyses, &c., I think it admirably adapted to advance the diligent student, not only rapidly, but soundly, in an acquaintance with the Latin language,"

From Prof. Gammell, of Brown University.

"The book seems to me, as I anticipated it would be, a valuable addition to the works now in use among teachers of Latin in the schools of the United States, and for many of them it will undoubtedly form an advantageous substitute."

From Prof. Lincoln, of Brown University.

"It seems to me to carry on most successfully the method pursued in the First Book. Though brief, it is very comprehensive, and combines judicious and skilfully formed exercises with systematic instruction."

From J. J. OWEN, D.D., Professor of the Latin and Greek Languages and Literature in the Free Academy, New York.

"This Second Latin Book gives abundant evidence of the author's learning and tact to arrange, simplify, and make accessible to the youthful mind the great and fundamental principles of the Latin language. The book is worthy of a place in every dissical school, and I trust will have an extensive sale."

From Prof. Anderson, of Lewisburg University, Pennsylvania.

"A faithful use of the work would diminish the drudgery of the student's earlier studies, and facilitate his progress in his subsequent course. I wish the work a with stroubation."

A Latin Grammar for Schools and Colleges

By A. HARKNESS, Ph.D., Professer in Brown University.

To explain the general plan of the work, the Publishers ask the attention of teachers to the following extracts from the Preface:

- 1. This volume is designed to present a systematic arrangement of the great facts and laws of the Latin language; to exhibit not only grammatical forms and constructions, but also those vital principles which underlie, con trol, and explain them.
- Designed at once as a text-book for the class-room, and a book of reference in study, it aims to introduce the beginner easily and pleasantly to the first principles of the language, and yet to make adequate provision for the wants of the more advanced student.
- 8. By brevity and conciseness in the choice of phraseology and compactness in the arrangement of forms and topics, the author has endeavored to compress within the limits of a convenient manual an amount of carefully-selected grammatical facts, which would otherwise fill a much larger volume.
- 4. He has, moreover, endeavored to present the whole subject in the light of modern scholarship. Without encumbering hi spages with any unnecessary discussions, he has aimed to enrich them with the practical results of the recent labors in the field of philology.
- 5. Syntax has received in every part special attention. An attempt has been made to exhibit, as clearly as possible, that beautiful system of laws which the genius of the language—that highest of all grammatical authority—has created for itself.
- 6. Topics which require extended illustration are first presented in their completeness in general outline, before the separate points are discussed in detail. Thus a single page often foreshadows all the leading features of an extended discussion, imparting a completeness and vividness to the impression of the learner, impossible under any other treatment.
- 7 Special care has been taken to explain and illustrate with the requisite fulness all difficult and intricate subjects. The Subjunctive Mood—that severest trial of the teacher's patience—has been presented, it is hoped, in a form at once simple and comprehensive.

Harkness's Latin Grammar.

From Rev. Prof. J. J. Owen, D.D., New York Free Academy.

"I have carefully examined Harkness's Latin Grammar, and am so well pleased with its plan, arrangement, and execution, that I shall take the earliest opportunity of batroducing it as a text-book in the Free Academy."

From Mr. JOHN D. PHILBRICK, Superintendent of Public Schools, Boston, Mass.

"This work is evidently no hasty performance, nor the compilation of a mere book maker, but the well-ripened fruit of mature and accurate scholarship. It is eminently practical, because it is truly philosophical."

From Mr. G. N. Bigklow, Principal of State Norma. School, Framingham, Mass.
"Harkness's Latin Grammar is the most satisfactory text-book I have ever used."

From Rev. Daniel Leace, Superintendent Public Schools, Providence, R. I.

"I am quite confident that it is superior to any Latin Grammar before the public.

It has recently been introduced into the High School, and all are much pleased with it."

From Dr. J. B. CHAPIN, State Commissioner of Public Instruction in Rhode Island.

"The vital principles of the language are clearly and beautifully exhibited. The work needs no one's commendation."

From Mr. Abune J. Phipm, Superintendent of Public Schools, Lowell, Mass.

"The aim of the anthor seems to be fully realized in making this 'a useful Book, and as such I can cheerfully commend it. The clear and admirable manner in which the intricacies of the Subjunctive Mood are unfolded, is one of its marked features.

"The evidence of ripe scholarship and of familiarity with the latest works of Ger man and English philologists is manifest throughout the book."

From Dr. J. T. CHAMPLIN, President of Waterville College.

"I like both the plan and the execution of the work very much. Its matter and saanner are both admirable. I shall be greatly disappointed if it does not at once win the public favor."

From Prof. A. S. PACKARD, Bowdoin College, Brunswick, Maine,

"Harkness's Latin Grammar exhibits throughout the results of thorough scholar ship. I shall recommend it in our next catalogue."

From Prof. J. J. STANTON, Bates College.

"We have introduced Harkness's Grammar into this Institution. It is much more ogical and concise than any of its rivals."

From Mr. WM. J. ROLFE, Principal Cambridge High School,

"Notwithstanding all the inconveniences that must attend a change of Latia Grassmars in a large school like mine, I shall endeavor to secure the adoption of Harkness's Grammar in place of our present text-book as soon as possible."

From Mr. L. R. Williston, Principal Ladies' Seminary, Cambridge, Mass.

"I think this work a decided advance upon the Grammar now in use."

From Mr D. B. Hager, Princ. Eliot High School, Jamaica Plain, Mass.
"This is, in my opinion, by far the best Latin Grammar ever published. It is dimirably adapted to the use of learners, being remarkably concise, clear, compressive and philosophical. It will henceforth be used as a text-book in this school."

Harkness's Latin Grammar.

From Prof. C. S. Harrington and Prof. J. C. Van Benschoten, of the Wesleyen University.

"This work is clear, accurate, and happy in its statement of principles, is simple yet sabolarly, and embraces the latest researches in this department of philological science. It will appear in our catalogue."

From Mr. ELBRIDGE SHITH, Principal Free Academy, Norwick, Ct.

"This is not only the best Latin Grammar, but one of the most thoroughly prepared school-books that I have ever seen. I have introduced the book into the Free Academy, and am much plaused with the results of a month's experience in the class-room."

From Mr. H. A. Paarr, Principal High School, Hartford, Ct.

"I can heartily recommend Harkness's new work to both teachers and scholars. It is, in my judgment, the best Latin Grammar ever offered to our schools."

From Mr. I. F. Cadt, Principal High School, Warren, R. I.

"The longer I use Harkness's Grammar the more fully am I convinced of its superior excellence. Its merits must secure its adoption wherever it becomes known."

From Messrs. S. Thurber and T. B. Stockwell, Public High School, Providence.

"An experience of several weeks with Harkness's Latin Grammar, enables us to say with confidence, that it is an improvement on our former text-book."

From Mr. C. B. Goff, Principal Boys' Classical High School, Providence, R. I
"The practical working of Harkness's Grammar is gratifying even beyond my expectations."

From Rev. Prof. M. H. Buckham, University of Vermont.

"Harkness's Latin Grammar seems to me to supply the desideratum. It is philosophical in its method, and yet simple and clear in its statements; and this, in my judgment, is the highest encombum which can be bestowed on a text-book."

From Mr. E. T. QUIMBY, Appleton Academy, New Ipswich, N. H.
"I think the book much superior to any other I have seen. I should be glad to introduce it at once,"

From Mr. H. Onourr, Glenwood Ladies' Seminary, W. Brattleboro', Vt.
"I am pleased with Harkness's Latin Grammar, and have already introduced it inte this seminary."

From Mr. CHARLES JEWETT, Principal of Franklin Academy.

"I deem it an admirable work, and think it will supersede all others now in use. In the division and arrangement of topics, and in its mechanical execution, it is superfer to any Latin Grammar extant."

From Mr. C. C. CHASE, Principal of Lowell High School.

"Prof. Harkness's Grammar is, in my opinion, admirably adapted to make the study of the Latin language agreeable and interesting."

From Mr. J. Kieball, High School, Dorchester, Mass.

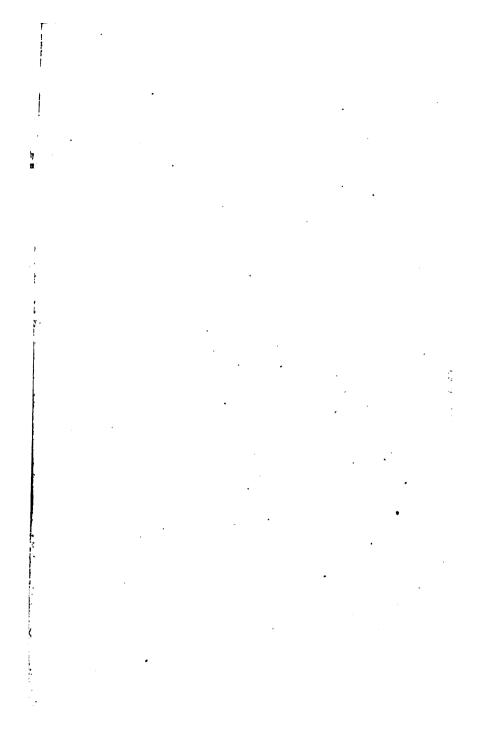

"It meets my ideal of what is desirable in every grammar, to wit: compression of general principles in terse definitions and statements, for eady use; and fulness of astall, well arranged for reference."
